Standards Australia wishes to acknowledge the participation of the expert individuals that contributed to the development of this Standard through their representation on the Committee and through the public comment period.

Keeping Standards up-to-date

Australian Standards® are living documents that reflect progress in science, technology and systems. To maintain their currency, all Standards are periodically reviewed, and new editions are published. Between editions, amendments may be issued.

Standards may also be withdrawn. It is important that readers assure themselves they are using a current Standard, which should include any amendments that may have been published since the Standard was published.

Detailed information about Australian Standards, drafts, amendments and new projects can be found by visiting www.standards.org.au

Standards Australia welcomes suggestions for improvements, and encourages readers to notify us immediately of any apparent inaccuracies or ambiguities. Contact us via email at mail@standards.org.au, or write to Standards Australia, GPO Box 476, Sydney, NSW 2001.

PREFACE

This Standard was prepared by the Australian members of the Joint Standards Australia/Standards New Zealand Committee ME-005, Cranes, to supersede AS 2550.1—2002, Cranes, hoists and winches—Safe use, Part 1: General.

After consultation with stakeholders in both countries, Standards Australia and Standards New Zealand decided to retain this Standard as an Australian Standard rather than develop it as an Australian/New Zealand Standard.

The objective of this Standard is to specify general requirements for the safe use of cranes, hoists and winches.

The objective of the AS 2550 series of Standards is to provide uniform requirements and guidance for the safe use of cranes, hoists and winches.

Major changes in this Edition include extensive revision of the inspection and maintenance requirements in Section 7, and the addition of a new Section 9 that specifies methods to monitor design duty and introduce the concept of design working period. Section 9 of this Standard is based on the concepts outlined in ISO 12482-1, Cranes condition monitoring, Part 1: General.
