Review of Standards

To keep abreast of progress in industry, Australian and New Zealand Standards are subject to periodic review and are kept up to date by the issue of amendments or new editions as necessary. It is important therefore that Standards users ensure that they are in possession of the latest edition, and any amendments thereto.

Full details of all publications of the Standards Association of New Zealand and Standards Australia will be found in the Catalogue of Publications of the respective organization; this information is supplemented in their monthly magazines, which subscribing members receive, and which give details of new publications, new editions and amendments, and of withdrawn Standards.

Suggestions for improvements to Australian and New Zealand Standards, addressed to the head office of the relevant organizations are welcomed. Notification of any inaccuracy or ambiguity found in either an Australian or New Zealand Standard should be made without delay in order that the matter may be investigated and appropriate action taken.

PREFACE

This interim Standard is identical with ISO/DIS 9000-2:1991, Quality management and quality assurance Standards, Part 2: Generic guidelines for the application of ISO 9001, ISO 9002 and ISO 9003, published by the International Organization for Standardization (ISO). It is issued as a joint interim Standard under the terms of the Memorandum of Understanding between Standards Australia and the Standards Association of New Zealand with the objective of reducing technical barriers to trade between the two nations.

The Australian Committee provided input to the International Committee ISO/TC 176 in the preparation of the draft ISO 9000-2. As publication of the draft ISO Standard is not imminent, the decision was jointly made by the Standards Association of New Zealand and Standards Australia to make the interim Standard available, in order to facilitate the usage of quality management systems within both countries.

For the purpose of this interim Australian/New Zealand Standard, the ISO text should be modified by replacement of references to other publications with references to Australian or New Zealand Standards.

Standards Australia and Standards Association of New Zealand invite comments on this interim Standard from persons and organizations concerned with this subject. The date of expiry for comment is 22 June 1994, at which time this interim Standard will either be withdrawn or revised in the light of public comment, with the view to the preparation of a final Standard.

During the life of this document the respective Committees of Standards Australia and Standards Association of New Zealand will monitor all comment or field data as it is received.

Attention is drawn to the fact that this document is an interim Standard only, and should be regarded as a draft Standard and hence liable to alteration after the expiry date.

This document is not to be regarded as an Australian/New Zealand Standard until jointly issued as such by Standards Australia and Standards Association of New Zealand.
