Foreword

ISO (the International Organization for Standardization) is a worldwide federation of national standards bodies (ISO member bodies). The work of preparing International Standards is normally carried out through ISO technical committees. Each member body interested in a subject for which a technical committee has been established has the right to be represented on that committee. International organizations, governmental and non-governmental, in liaison with ISO, also take part in the work. ISO collaborates closely with the International Electrotechnical Commission (IEC) on all matters of electrotechnical standardization.

Draft International Standards adopted by the technical committees are circulated to the member bodies for voting. Publication as an International Standard requires approval by at least 75 % of the member bodies casting a vote.

International Standard ISO 2286-1 was prepared by Technical Committee ISO/TC 45, Rubber and rubber products.

Together with the other parts (see below), it cancels and replaces ISO 2286:1986, which has been technically revised.

ISO 2286 consists of the following parts, under the general title Rubber- and plastics-coated fabrics — Determination of roll characteristics:

- Part 1: Methods for determination of length, width and net mass
- Part 2: Methods for determination of total mass per unit area, mass per unit area of coating and mass per unit area of substrate
- Part 3: Method for determination of thickness
